AMC Engineers Adds Accountant to Its Staff

Anchorage, AK—Jessica Merlino, CMA, has joined Anchorage-based AMC Engineers.

Merlino brings 11 years of bookkeeping and accounting experience to AMC. She oversees AMC's accounting department and her specialties include strategic business planning, Total Quality Management, cost analysis and financial statement preparation.

Merlino recently passed her Certified Management Accountant (CMA) exams in just eight weeks and is currently studying for the Certified Financial Manager (CFM) designation. Currently, there are six individuals designated as CFMs and 34 CMAs statewide. The Institute of Management Accountants describes the CMA and CFM designations as, "representing a broad business competency and mastery of the management-level skills required to add value, drive business performance, and build quality financial practices within organizations. The programs objectively test and validate expertise in areas essential to analyzing, managing and evaluating business solutions that contribute to the success of an organization. The CMA and CFM credentials indicate a commitment to excellence based on a strong, ethical foundation and dedication to lifelong learning."

Merlino earned a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration with an emphasis on Management Accounting and is working towards her MBA and CMBA. Her previous experience includes consulting for Fortune500 Companies, working with international corporations and involvement with a variety of different business applications.

AMC Engineers is celebrating 25 years of quality, innovative design in Alaska and is an employee-owned, award-winning full-service mechanical-electrical-security-control systems-telecommunication design engineering firm.
